

Lab 1 – JavaScript

Above project is a demonstration of HTML & CSS & JavaScript to create a Quiz application.

The quiz will have some questions along with four options for each question. User can select an option out of the given four options.

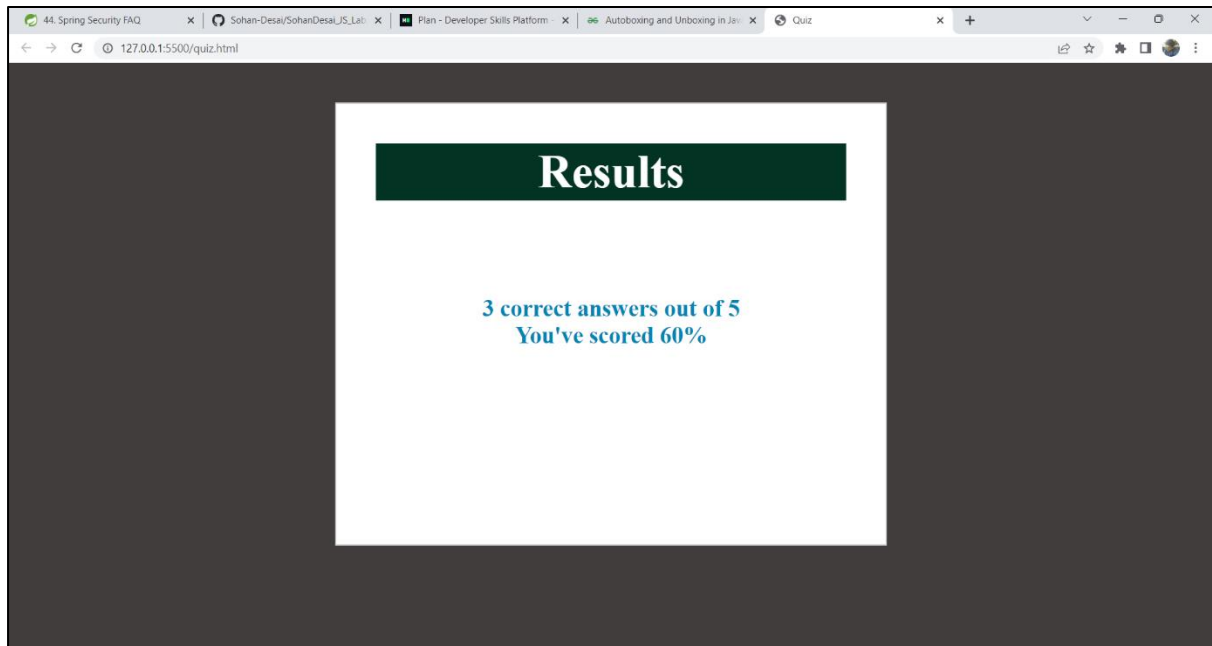

Quiz Page

In case the user selects the correct option a score will be awarded to the user else not.

The next question loads only after user selects an option.

After all the questions have been answered, score of the user along with the total percentage of correctly answered questions out of the all questions are displayed.

Thus we've successfully created a basic quiz application using HTML, CSS and JavaScript.

Thanks!
